Emerging Growth and Venture Capital

Our practice represents innovative companies, entrepreneurs, and the investors who support them, guiding clients from initial concept through growth, exit, and beyond. Drawing on the resources of our full-service firm, we deliver practical, business-focused legal advice tailored to the evolving needs of high-growth companies at every stage of development.

Practice and Scope

Our team advises venture capital funds, angel investors, and other financing sources on fundraising, governance, and investment activities, including seed, early stage, and later stage venture financings. We represent VC-backed companies from their first capital raise through product development, commercialization, strategic transactions, and exit events, including mergers, acquisitions, and initial public offerings. We also support companies post IPO, helping them navigate regulatory obligations and public company challenges.

We leverage our broad experience across several practice areas including:

- Corporate and Securities and M&A
- Executive Compensation and Employee Benefits
- Intellectual Property
- Labor and Employment
- Privacy and Cybersecurity
- Regulatory
- Tax

Industry Experience

We represent clients, large and small, at the forefront of key industry verticals, including:

- Artificial Intelligence
- Blockchain
- Climate Tech and Energy Innovation (including Nuclear-Related Technologies)
- Data Center and Computing Technologies
- Defense and Space Tech
- Fintech
- Food and Beverage
- Life Sciences and Health Tech
- Mobility
- Retail and Consumer Products
- Software and SaaS

Our Approach

Hunton brings a holistic perspective informed by decades of experience working with both emerging companies and their investors across evolving market conditions. Our approach emphasizes practical deal making, collaborative teamwork, and creative problem solving, delivering comprehensive yet cost-effective legal solutions. Through long standing relationships with incubators, accelerators, venture capital firms, financial institutions, universities, and innovation ecosystems, we provide clients with not only trusted legal counsel but also strategic insight and connections that support long term growth.
