

News

Media Quotes Scott Kimpel Regarding Supreme Court Securities Case Ruling

March 18, 2013

Scott Kimpel was quoted in recent media about the Supreme Court's ruling in securities case Gabelli v. Securities and Exchange Commission, which says the five-year-statute of limitations for filing a civil fraud action begins to run when the fraud occurs, not when the fraud is discovered. Kimpel said the Court's ruling was expected and may help "accelerate the resolution of some of those older cases" while also pushing the SEC to "litigate its cases a little faster." Kimpel's practice encompasses a wide range of matters involving the securities laws, mergers and acquisitions, joint ventures, financings, and corporate governance, among others.

Media outlets include The National Law Journal, New York Law Journal, Compliance Week, and Law360.

Related People

Scott H. Kimpel
Partner
+1 202 955 1524
skimpel@hunton.com

Media Contact

Lisa Franz

Director of Public Relations

Jeremy Heallen

Public Relations Senior Manager

mediarelations@Hunton.com

These materials have been prepared for informational purposes only and are not legal advice. This information is not intended to create an attorney-client or similar relationship. Case results do not guarantee or predict a similar result in any future case. Unless otherwise noted, attorneys not certified by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization. Hunton Andrews Kurth LLP is a Virginia limited liability partnership. Attorney Advertising.